"THE CUB."
Tuesday at the Auditorium theater, there will be presented the five-part William A. Brady photoplay, "The Cub," released by the World Film corporation and based upon William A. Brady's successful stage offering of the same name. Thompson Buchanan, author of "Life," and many other notable plays, wrote "The Cub."

Martha Hedman is the lovely heroine of an exciting comedy which treats of the remarkable misadventures of a young newspaper reporter suddenly flung into the terrible turmoil of a Kentucky feud. He falls in love with one girl, and gets himself beloved by another. The girls belong to opposing families, and the result is a poor little Steve, "the cub," can be better imagined than described in a short newspaper paragraph. John Hines, a finished and versatile young comedian, who has made several successes in World Film features, finds in the part of "The Cub" a vehicle for his rich and rollicking humor.

Dorothy Farnum, a beautiful young actress, is also in the cast; so is Robert Cummings, the astute and self-restrained detective of "Alias Jimmy Valentine." Also Bert Starkey, the most adroit little crook ever seen in pictures, and Jessie Lewis.

It's a splendid comedy-drama cast, and "The Cub" will assuredly be popular with movie fans. "The Honeymoon Baby," a Vitagraph comedy, with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, is also being shown.

Tomorrow "Midnight at Maxims," a spectacular four-act cabaret show featuring a number of vaudeville headliners will be the chief attraction with Charley Chaplin in a two-reel comedy entitled "Mabel at the Wheel."

AT THE LASALLE.

Now it is as an Indian maid who loves a white man, and loves in vain, that Mary Pickford wins the hearts of her spectators. This unique characterization by this idolized star of the screen occurs in "Little Pal," the latest production on the Paramount program at the LaSalle today.

To judge from the frequent and spontaneous applause that accompanied Miss Pickford's performance last night, she is quite as well liked as the little half-breed who suffers and sacrifices for the white man she loves as she was in other and more dignified roles, such as queens and sweethearts of kings, and protectors of fairies, and girls of the woods, to mention only a few of her successful recent characterizations. And as "Little Pal" Miss Pickford again furnishes ample proof that to her boundless art nothing is impossible. Though the role is entirely new to this wonderful star, she literally lives the life, and apparently without an effort suggests all the mannerisms and emotions of the Indian girl.

"Little Pal" is another triumph for Miss Pickford's versatility.

On the same program will be seen an Animated Weekly.

On Wednesday Betty Nansen, the Russian star, will be seen in an emotional drama, "Should a Mother Tell." Miss Nansen scored a big hit here in a number of good pictures including "A Woman's Resurrection." She plays a loving mother in the present release and is torn between her desire to do right by an innocent man condemned to die and her own daughter's happiness. The solution of this problem brings out many interesting and absorbing situations. A splendid cast will be seen in the support of Miss Nansen including Stuart Holmes and Claire Whitney.

"DISK DAY TOMORROW."

"Hunt for the Hidden Disks." That's the slogan that will be heard all over Springbrook park beginning at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. It will mark the start of the first annual disk search that is expected to become an annual event.

Five metal disks, measuring five inches in diameter will be buried just below the surface of the ground in several plainly designated localities throughout the park. Cash prizes amounting to $100 will be given to the successful searchers. The first reward will be $50; the second $25; the third $15, and the fourth $10. A fifth consolation prize will be made of passes to the park concessions.

Everyone is invited to come out and dig. There are no admissions and no charge of any kind will be made. There are a few simple restrictions principally in reference to the implements used which must be either pocket knives of table forks. Searchers will of course confine their efforts to the designated places and not dig up the flowers, grass or shrubbery in the park.

Convenient plans have been selected where the sand is clean and easily dug. No disks will be placed in the drives, walks or on the new race track now under construction. It will not require steam shovels or ditch digging machinery to locate them.

In other cities where similar contests have been held the interest has been intense. Not only have boys and girls enjoyed the fun and profit of the search, but older folks, clubs, societies and groups of men have combined in their efforts to locate the metal disks that have represented valuable prizes.

Interest will be added to the search by not designating which number will take the larger prize. That is being kept a secret by the committee in charge. While number one may be the first found it is not stated that the largest prize of $50 will be allotted to that number. It may go to number four or five, or it may stimulate interest until all the disks have been found.

The special days conducted during the past seasons by Mgr. Dalley for the benefit and pleasure of the boys, girls and babies will be held again this season. It is thought, however, that Disk day will create more interest and appeal to more people than any of the other feature events.

The engagement of the Royal Italian band of Chicago for the Venetian week celebration will add to the pleasure of disk day, for continuous concerts will be given during the afternoon and evening.

AT THE INDIANA.

The renovated Indiana theater will open its doors next Thursday at 2 o'clock with an excellent program of high class pictures properly presented. The complete redecoration, redecorating, furnishing and equipping of the picture play house will make it a convenient and comfortable place of amusement. A selected program, changed each day, will be shown. The theater will be open from 2 until 5 each afternoon and from 7 to 11 each evening. The opening bill consists of Klaw and Erlanger's fine dramatic production of "Woman Against Woman." Also the popular favorite, Lillian Walker, in a two-reel comedy drama, "The Silent W."

The latter picture concerns two girls of the same name, but different orthography, who are made happy in their romances. The silent "W" is the cause.

RETURN TO NATURE CRANK JOINS ARMY

Apostle of Right Living Is Declared to Be a Perfect Specimen.

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—Gustav Nagel, a harmless crank and apostle of the "return to nature" theory, who is known all over Germany, must fight for the fatherland. For years this fanatic of vegetarianism and other freakish ideas has been travelling about through the length and breadth of the empire, lecturing and selling photographs of himself, but two years ago he was married and he has since lived at Arendsee, in the province of Saxony. He never has his hair and beard trimmed and never wears anything but a pair of linen overalls and sandals, even in winter. Shirts, underwear, stockings, coats, etc., he considers not only unnecessary, but harmful. Vegetables are his only food and he mostly eats them raw.

Last week this "natural man," as he styles himself, was called before the recruiting commission at Magdeburg and enrolled into the army. The physicians who examined him pronounced him a perfect specimen of physical manhood. As he is an enthusiastic anti-militarist and opponent of war he tried to get off by claiming that he was nearsighted, but his eyes were found to be in excellent condition.
